

First Lutheran Church of Richmond Beach Director of Music Ministries

First Lutheran Church of Richmond Beach is a large suburban Seattle, Washington, congregation with a rich musical tradition, worshipping between 300 and 400 persons in two Sunday morning services each week. We are searching for a full-time Director of Music Ministries to serve our congregation.

The First Lutheran congregation is committed to a diversity of musical expression in a broad range which embraces a classical/traditional worship setting as well as a contemporary, band-led setting. A well-qualified candidate for the Director of Music Ministries position will hold a bachelors or masters degree in music direction or education and have experience in leading congregational music with a variety of musical styles and instrumentation. The successful candidate will possess the ability to be a strong team member with church pastors and staff, preschool staff and lay leaders.

The opportunity to help develop direction for ministry and provide input in program direction is a part of the job description. The Director of Music Ministries is responsible for areas of Music Ministry which include but are not limited to:

- Accompaniment on organ, piano and keyboard;
- Direction of a classical choir, praise band, children's choir and preschool music enrichment program.

Salary considerations will take experience into account. Benefits are included in the compensation for this position. More details about the position are included in the complete job description, which is available upon request.
